Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5 and 21-43, drawn to  $\beta$ -defensins, pharmaceutical compositions containing them and pharmaceutical methods of treatment classified in class 514, subclass 12.
- II. Claims 6-7, drawn to antibodies, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- III. Claims 8-20, drawn to polynucleotides encoding  $\beta$ -defensins, constructs containing the polynucleotides and a recombinant method of making a protein, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions, the peptide is antimicrobial, while the antibody is used to detect the peptide. Further, they are chemically distinct products unrelated in sequence and separately classified having separate fields of search. It would place undue burden on the examiner to examine several independent inventions in one application.

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (M.P.E.P. § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by chemical synthesis, such as by the Merrifield method or by purification from natural sources by methods such as ion exchange chromatography, immunoaffinity, ultrafiltration, reverse-phase HPLC, etc.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions; the DNA is used to make an antimicrobial peptides, while the antibody is used to detect the peptide. Further, the compounds of Groups II and III are independent, mutually exclusive and patentably distinct products. Each can be independently synthesized by chemical means. An antibody is encoded by an entirely different DNA than that the protein which is bound by it, and the primary sequence of the antibody bears no relationship to the sequence of the detected protein. It would place undue burden on the examiner to examine several independent inventions in one application.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and the search for one Group is not required for any other Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The Examiner notes that SEQ ID NO:10, except for 2 additional amino acids at the COOH terminus, appears identical to SEQ ID NO:2; furthermore, SEQ ID Nos 14-72 appear to be fragments of SEQ ID NOs:2 and/or 10.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Gabriele E. BUGAISKY whose telephone number is (571) 272-0945. The examiner can normally be reached on Tues.- Fri 8:15 AM-1:45 PM.
